Strategy on the Health and Wellbeing of Men in the WHO European Region
In recent years, the health and wellbeing of men has received increasing attention in the WHO European Region. A key trigger for this attention has been the high level of premature mortality among men - particularly in Eastern Europe. However, the focus on men’s health has also been driven by a growing body of evidence that provides a better understanding of how gender intersects with social, economic, environmental, political and cultural determinants which influence exposure to risk factors and interactions with health systems. At a meeting of the WHO Europe Regional Committee in Rome on 19th September 2018, the delegates approved a new men’s health strategy which aims to inform action by Member States to improve men’s health and wellbeing while promoting gender equality. International Men’s Day 2018
International Men’s Day (IMD) takes place on the 19th of November each year. This day offers an opportunity for everyone to celebrate the important contribution that men and boys make to their families, friends, communities, workplaces, society and the world. However, it is also a time to highlight some of the key issues facing males, and to provide practical support and positive encouragement to overcome these. Keep an eye out for IMD activities and events in your area. Better still, why not organise something yourself to mark this day!
Please Talk
As the 2018/19 academic year gets underway, are you aware of the 'Please Talk' initiative which is based in third level institutions across Ireland? ... Please Talk is a student-led mental health movement which signposts students to both on-campus and off-campus support services. It also aims to empower students to look after their mental health and to reduce stigma around mental health on campus. Find out more at: www.pleasetalk.org

Building the Community-Pharmacy Partnership Funding - Level 1
Building the Community-Pharmacy Partnership (BCPP) in Northern Ireland is a collaboration between the Community Development and Health Network and the Health and Social Care Board - with strategic direction offered by a multi-agency Steering Group. The programme aims to promote and support communities to work in partnership with local pharmacists to address health and wellbeing needs using a community development approach by: increasing skills; encouraging community activity and self-help; expanding understanding of health issues; supporting local people to play a key role in promoting health. Applications are now being invited for the Level 1 funding scheme. For more details see: www.cdhn.org/bcpp

Gay and Bisexual Dads Support Group
The Rainbow Project's Gay and Bi Dads' Group aims to provide gay and bisexual men - who may be married or who are still not out - with a safe and confidential space to meet with other men in similar situations. The group meets monthly, from 7.00pm - 9.00pm, and offers: support and advice on coming out; managing family life as a gay or bisexual man; an opportunity to talk openly and safely about being either a gay or bisexual man. For more details, Tel: 02890 319030 or Email: familysupport@rainbow-project.org

Samaritans - There for Everyone Round the Clock
If you’re feeling down, lonely or suicidal, you don’t need to suffer in silence. Samaritan volunteers are well trained to listen while you talk about whatever is distressing you - in confidence - and they will not judge. Try the Freecall number 116123, or email: jo@samaritans.org The Samaritans support everyone who contacts them for emotional support. They don’t provide advice, but do listen and, through getting your problems off your chest to a sympathetic listening ear, you may feel that there is hope. There are eight branches across Northern Ireland - Belfast, Bangor, Craigavon, Newry, Ballymena, Coleraine, Derry / Londonderry and Omagh. Details are available online at: www.samaritans.org Sometimes, it takes courage for people to call. They are in a dark place, and lifting a phone is often difficult. The Samaritans say try us: You talk. We listen.

Men’s Health Week All-Island Planning Group
International Men's Health Week (MHW) always begins on the Monday before Father's Day and ends on Father's Day itself. In 2019, it will run from Monday 10th until Sunday 16th June. Every year the Men’s Health Forum in Ireland (MHFI) convenes an all-island Planning Group for the week. Would you be interested in joining with others from across the island of Ireland to help to shape MHW 2019? … This can be done in many ways - from participating in meetings to electronic communication. All input is very welcome, and helps to make the week stronger and more relevant. The first meeting of the Planning Group will take place on Friday 9th November, from 10.45am - 1.45pm (including lunch), in Dundalk, Co. Louth. However, even if you cannot make the meetings, your ongoing feedback on developments via email / phone would still be very helpful. If you would be interested in being part of the planning process for 2019 (in any way), email Colin Fowler at: colin@mhf.org

Making Parenting Work
Parenting NI invites you to an event titled ‘Making Parenting Work’ led by Josh Levs which will focus on men, modern parenthood, and gender equality. This seminar will address: how businesses can engage men on issues of gender equality and diversity; how equal caregiving options attract and retain the best employees; how to support both male and female employees who seek work-life balance; proven methods to achieve all of this while lifting profits. This event will take place in Windsor Park Football Stadium, Belfast, on Monday 22nd October 2018, from 9.00am - 11.30am. The cost (£25.00) includes breakfast and an optional tour of the stadium. For more information, or to book a place, contact Maria on Tel: 02890 310891 or Email: corporate@parentingni.org

Community-Based Men's Health and Lifestyle Programme

Designing Employee Support Services for Workplace Mental Health
It is important for employers and employees to know about their legislative rights and responsibilities in relation to mental health at work. The EAP Institute is organising three seminars across Ireland to explore ‘Designing Employee Support Services for Workplace Mental Health’. These will take place on Thursday 31st January 2019 (Dublin), Thursday 28th February 2019 (Kilkenny) and Thursday 21st March 2019 (Galway). Full details can be found at: www.eapinstitute.com/documents/EmployeeSupportServices2019.pdf

Let’s Talk About… Safer Sex
This three-day Training for Trainers Programme will be beneficial to youth workers and others in the voluntary, community and education sectors who have a role in developing and delivering sexual health education programmes to service users in their care. The training topics include sexual health, HIV, sexually transmitted infections, hepatitis and negotiating safer sex. On completion of the training, participants will receive the ‘Let’s Talk About… Safer Sex’ training resource manual. This course will take place in Dublin on Tuesdays the 13th, 20th and 27th November 2018. For more information, visit: www.hivireland.ie/what-we-do/training/training-for-trainers

Family Mediation Foundation Training
Family Mediation NI (FMNI) is inviting applications for their comprehensive training route to becoming an accredited Family Mediator, recognised in the UK and Ireland. The first step to achieving this is to successfully complete a Foundation Training Programme. FMNI is approved by The College of Mediators (UK) and The Mediators’ Institute of Ireland to deliver a course comprised of both generic mediation training and a specialist element for working with separating couples. FMNI is offering the twelve day Foundation Training Programme this Autumn over six two day modules in Belfast. The Health and Well-Being of Men in the WHO European Region: Better Health Through a Gender Approach

Men in the WHO European Region are living healthier and longer lives than before. The Region is setting an example through an impressive reduction of premature mortality from non-communicable diseases (NCDs) and is likely to achieve the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals target on reducing premature mortality from NCDs by one third earlier than 2030. Despite this, too many men die young in the Region. Although life expectancy of men has steadily increased in all countries in recent decades, there is still up to 17 years difference between the lowest and highest-ranking countries, and within-country differences remain large. The higher risk for premature mortality for men compared to women, and the large differences among men, is not news. In fact, it has been observed in many countries for so long now that it is almost considered a natural phenomenon. However, it is not, and should not be regarded as such. This report goes behind the data to investigate the causes of the differences in more detail. Download a copy at: www.euro.who.int/__data/assets/pdf_file/0007/380716/mhr-report-eng.pdf

The 2018 Big Parenting Survey - Fathers’ Input Wanted!

Since 1979, Parenting NI has supported parents across Northern Ireland - helping thousands of parents, grandparents, kinship carers and others in parenting roles with issues ranging from bedtimes to anti-social behaviour. During this time, they have also helped to promote the importance of parents’ experience in policy relating to children, and have worked to ensure that parents' voices have been heard. This role has been guided and informed by parents themselves. Parenting NI is, currently, conducting their largest ever parents' survey, and would like your input to it. This online survey will run from 3rd September - 12th October 2018, and is open to any individual in a parenting role in Northern Ireland. The input of men will be particularly welcomed. Please take a few minutes to complete the survey at: www.questionpro.com/t/ALEXYZcqi9
